Hola, The article I wrote in the video: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XXnx2g_bm-s&t=1s is about Libro Maria Y Manuel Susaeta Descargar and you can find it below: Hi, my name is Juanita and this piece is about how to keep your books organized! It can be tough keeping track of what's where if you have a big collection of books. Well, I am here to tell you that it can be done. The trick is to organize them chronologically and by topic. Here's the deal: By topic: Make a chart with 3 columns - column A: Book Title, column B: Subject and column C: Author Year. For example, you can use this as your organization system. You can even do more columns if you want and give one person the right to organize each book under each title and so on until it is complete. Make sure you include all facts about each book such as the book's author, title, subject and any other information/reviews/etc about it so that everyone knows about them better!. Chronological:I know what you're thinking, this sounds complicated. I assure you it isn't. Simply put, create a date based list in a notebook. Then when you go to the store and buy a book, take a piece of paper and write down the date in your notebook. If you remember that book, then rewrite that month's date in the notebook and add that book to your list. If not, then write down the date when you bought it and add it to your chronological system under "before September 1, X Y Year" where X is the month when you bought it and Y is the year it was published. If you're buying a lot of books at once, grab both systems and you should keep your books organized. This video is about Careto Library Library.
